WHAT DOES IT MATTER !

BY EMILIE LAWSON.

What doot it matter, doar, though I go soon, Before the golden cups are gathered all; Before the burning heat of summer nees, Or the cold storm of aterma-time shall fall; West does it matter, if I sooner go, Westing unfolded violence on my breast? With leaded wales, the resport, tired and slow Will lighting pour the grames o'er my reas, And sighting, drop a tear— What will it matter, doar?

What will it matter, owner, if I grow old,
And Summer's pleasant fields grow black and have;
A few brief days of sunshine or of cold,
A few short hours of pleasants or of care?
What will in matter if I wearles stay.
To reap the fruitage of the sober Fall,
To put the earline gathered flowers away;
What is the gain or loss, if after all,
A fittle leager stays my feet—
What will it metter, seen?

What matters is, dear heart, if far or near,
Walss the Death Angul—noiseisenty as dumb;
For if stay, love-festers bind me here,
And if I ga, dear releas whipper, Come!
Though dark and thick the shadows intervent
The cloude are sometimes ritted, and I see
The beautiful dim vals, that lise between
The world that is, and that which is to be
Only a step spari—
What matters it, dear heart?
